

Where the Frozen Food Industry Comes Together

Hybrid Event | February 19-22, 2022

By leveraging the latest in event technology, AFFI-CON 2022 is THE best place to conduct frozen food business. The suite of tools available from our technology partner, Conference Scheduling Solutions, will translate into more meetings, new connections and more business done - whether attendees are choose to do business in-person in Dallas, TX, or virtually.

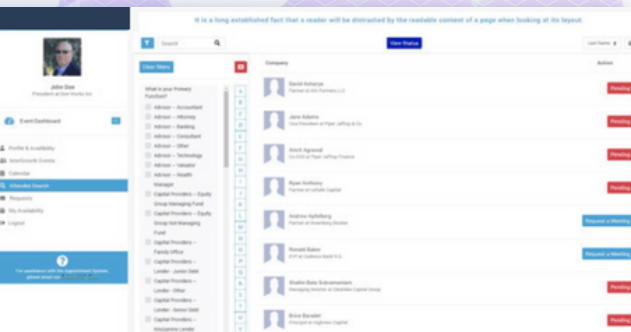

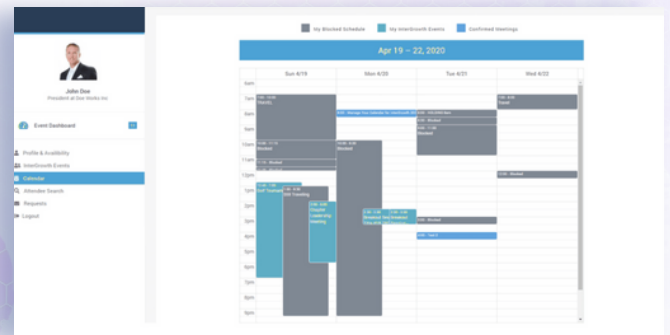

Detailed Profile Options

The ability to provide robust details about what kind of business you are looking to do at the show will allow you to make the right connections to grow your business at AFFI-CON. It will be easier than ever to contact other attendees before the event and beyond. Once the platform opens, you will simply confirm your information and then be ready to start setting high-quality one-on-one business meetings which can be hosted in-person at the conference hotel or in a secure, private virtual meeting space within the scheduling platform.

Easy Schedule Management Tools

The scheduling portal is centered around a visually rich calendar that contains your blocked availability, your confirmed meetings, and events. All of your meetings and sessions are color-coded by category, so you can prepare for and manage your time. The best part – it syncs seamlessly with your calendar of choice (Outlook, Google, etc).

Make Connections on Your Terms

The core attraction of AFFI-CON is the ease with which you can view participants, request a meeting, accept a requested meeting and choose a time to meet, or even snooze meeting requests if you'd like more time to decide. The attendee search panel gives you the status of participants you're interested in, and shows you requests you've made that are still pending, at a glance. Manage your interaction with hundreds of other attendees with just a few clicks.
